

homework-2

Question 1

```
install.packages("aRtsy")
```

`install.packages()` is used specifically to install a specific package onto your computer and only needs to be run when installing the package for the first library. The `library()` function's purpose is to load an already existing package into the current session.